quote from the Commercial Herald: Sugar.—The first item of importance for us to notice is the passage of the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty, which will probably go into effect within thirty days, admitting the entire Island product free of duty. The local refineries have this week reduced their prices of Yellow Coffee Sugar ic # lb, and all grades of White ic # lb. The result of this is to cause a fall of the life to the second state of the second seco fall of ic 47 ib on all Hawaiian Gracery grades for the time being. We now quote Yellow "C" at 16c; Crushed, 11c; and New York Dry Granulated, 11ic. There is an invoice of very superior New York Yellow Coffee Sugars, and also an invoice of superior New Urleans, in hogsheads, now upon the market, of superior New Orienns, in hogsheads, now upon the market, hoth attracting some attention from the trade. Imports during the week embrace two cargoes from Honolulu—say 1,945 kegs per Macgregor and 4,709 kegs per Deutschland. The bulk of this we presume will go into bond, to take the benefit of the Hawaiian Treaty. The present price of Hawaiian Grocesy grades is 56010jc. The ship Elizabeth Dougail, from Hongkong, brought us 484 mats from China. During the past fortnight sales include 350,000 fbs Central American, ex Analyze and Paulilac, at 5c for refining. The passage of the Hifgele and Panislac, at 5c for refining. The passage of the Ha-wailan Treaty will at first no doubt work to the injury of other sugar producing countries sending us supplies, but eventually will, likely, accrue largely to the Lenefit of the Island planters. Rice—We are in receipt of further supplies from China; the ship Elizabeth Dougall adding 21,587 bags to our already heavy supply. We have also two small invoices from Henolulu, per Macgregor and Deutschland, say 614 bags; this latter we quote at 71,677c; China, 54,266c; ditto mixed, 54c. Molasses and Symp.—The Island supply is light and the demand restricted. By the recent tariff the duty was increased lic. now 6jc, but the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty having been passed, will, when ratified, allow of its importation free of duty. California Sugar house Syrup can be bought for export, but the reflected price list.

SATURDAY, APRIL 10.

THE NEWS of the ratification of the treaty by the Senate of the United States, although the measure is not yet complete, has nevertheless acted as a wonderful clixir for the spirits of the community at large. There is no one but that anticipates the advent of better times, in some way or other, through the operation of the treaty when, finally ratified, it shall go into effect. There are a plenty of advisers however, -without our making the matter a specialty,-who will warn you not to be too sure of the measure; that the ordeal of the House of Representatives is yet loo defeat they experienced in the Senate they may be mad enough to try the issue again in the far less favorable arena of the House; -but we very much doubt it. The expressed opinion of leading men at Washington is, that the favorable action of the House at the next session is as certain as anything within the range of human probability. But still, we shall not be prepared to assist in firing one hundred guns until after the next session of Congress.

AT THE OPENING of the April term of the Supreme Court on Monday last, while the presiding Justice was examining the calendar, as is usual on the first day of term, he stated that a good many of the cases must go over until July or indefinitely; and the reasons for this delay, apparent to all, were found first, in the fact that there was but one Justice of the Supreme Court on the Island, and secondly that he was legally incapacitated from sitting in some of those cases. Several cases involving rights to property-about all the cases "in banco," requiring a full Court -are thus laid over. This condition of affairs in the highest Court of justice and last resort of the | much to do with this attempt to make a successful people, gave rise to some outspoker, and eminently just remarks by counsel, to the effect that as the Court was now and had been constituted with favorable impression made in the United States by one, or even two Justices only on the Bench, the constitutionally guaranteed rights of the people were not secured. Mr. Hartwell made the suggestion to the Court and to opposite counsel that cases in banco be submitted on written or printed briefs, a practice not infrequent elsewhere, whereby the Court would be enabled to act upon such cases as soon as the Justices should be able to consider them, whether in vacation or otherwise. To this proposal Mr. Stanley, the Attorney General, in his capacity as counsel for private parties litigant. replied that he could not agree, and also that he would consent to no hearing of the cases referred to by Mr. Hartwell until the Bench should be filled by three Judges, as the Constitution re-

This brought out a spirited response. Mr. if the executive law officer of the Government dressing the people, then said : takes upon himself as private counsel to say that cases in which he is the appellant shall not be heard while the Bench is in this condition-where are our rights? The counsel referred to the peculiar hardships in some of the cases now passed over, and closed by saying that he had heard members of the Bar told by this Court that they were not to be heard in objecting to the Constitutionality of the Bench composed of only two Justices, and that if this stand was to be the highest tribunal of the country is what it should be-full, able, upright and pure-men will feel confident and safe. And to reasonably inspire and maintain this confidence, the Bench must be all that we have mentioned; it must be full, as well as able, upright and pure. The Constitution declares that the Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice the project which was mooted in the Dominion and not less than two Associate Justices. How often, during the past ten years and more, has this provision of the fundamental law been practically ignored, so that to-day it has become we may say a standing rule, that we are never at one time to have mond of British Columbia has given notice of a a full Beach in the country? Of what benefit is it motion for a commercial treaty between Canada that we nominally have three Judges of the Supreme Court, when only two are ever to be found at their abroad early next month for an indefinite period, and the Second Associate, already several months absent, not expected to return for several months more. We need not ask, is this expedient, just or fair; we should rather pronounce it an outrage on the public. This language may seem strong, but the gravity of the situation calls for it. If we need three Justices to constitute the Beach of the Supreme Court, we need them here-not in America, or elsewhere. We have on previous occasions during the absence from the country of a member of the Bench. expatiated on the possible and probable inconvenence and delays of justice consequent thereon; and it is easy to imagine but not agreeable to contemplate what complications-involving possibly not denials of justice only, but positive infractions of personal rights and liberties also-may arise, with but a single Justice of the Supreme Court re-maining in the Kingdom. It is hardly necessary to observe that this is said without reference to whoever that single Justice might happen to be. But it does not require a vivid imagination to ricture to ourselves some of the possible disastrous results of thus crippling and dwarfing the highest tribunal of

LAST WORDS.

This editor cannot remain silent "when those hostile to a measure of great national importance choose to revive arguments designed and calculated to defeat it." The "arguments" revived are extracts from his own paper, when he was helping this same treaty, in 1867-8. But the very sight of them now is like a red rag to a bull. Won't some of the subscribers to his paper (he won't listen to us) tell him that he is not so essential to the success of the treaty as it is evident the treaty

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION. Welcome Home to the Hon. Mr. Carter.

An impromptu demonstration of the popular feeling of rejoicing at the favorable news brought by Mr. Commissioner Carter took place on Thursday evening last. At 8 o'clock, a procession of several hundred torch-bearers was formed at Union Square, whence, preceded by the Government Band, they marched to Mr. Carter's residence in Nuuanu Avenue. On that gentleman's appearance on the verandah he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers, after which S. B. Dole, Esq., addressed him as follows:

MR. CARTER: In the name of the citizens of Honolulu, and indeed of all these Islands, we welcome you home again. We appreciate the sacrifice of personal interest and comfort which you made in accepting the difficult post of Commissioner to Washington, You have fulfilled our highest expect-

You have accomplished the first great step, and with you, we look confidently for final success, and for the pres-perity which as the natural result will come to all classes, and every man, woman and child in the country. Will you, Mr. Carter, accept this demonstration as a faint token of the feeling of the whole people toward you on this occasion. Hoping that you may long live to witness and to enjoy the blessings and national strength which this treaty promises to the country, we again welcome you home to Hawaii Nei, the land of your birth, and assure you that these your public services will never be forgotten by fellow citizens.

Mr. Carter, in his usual happy manner, reponded as follows, frequently interrupted by the cheers of his auditors:

I thank you, Mr. Dole, and all of you my kind iends, for your cordial welcome to me on my return from this service.

The policy of making a closer commercial connection with our near neighbors the United States, has been a Hawaiian idea for nearly twenty years, and I am aware that this demonstration is in great part owing to patriotic pleasure at the success of a great national policy. I accept your congratulaons as not only for myself but for the Chancellor of the Kingdom, with whom I was associated, whose strong faith in the success of such a mission had pegotiation; also for those whose former efforts did much to pave the way to success.

You all know how much was due to the very His Majesty the King, whose good fortune it has been to succeed in inaugurating the policy which his predecessors have favored, from the days of Kamehameha III. Very much, also, was due to the kindly feeling of the President, Cabinet officers, and Senators of the United States, who were most generously disposed towards our little nation; and ir action was the endorsement by American statesmanship of the policy consistently pursued by the philanthropists of America towards this na-on for more than half a century.

All of those influences combind to secure the uccess of our mission, and I trust the operation of the Treaty will prove beneficial to both countries, and believe that it secures the progress and prosperity of Hawaii nei.

As I am told it is now your purpose to proceed to pay your respects to our King, I beg you to alme to join you in this most deserved mark of respect to the Sovereign, who has done so much towards accomplishing the object which we have all

OUR AMERICAN LETTER The National Capital .- Interesting Notes from Washington.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO THE P. C. ADVERTISES.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25, 1875. Perhaps the business men of Washington have never witnessed such a terrible time as they have just passed through-money has been scarce, men have been idle, so that at times our merchants have felt like closing out business and scrambling through the crisis as lightly os possible, and such would have been the case had it not been for the bright prospect which seemed to loom up the distant future. Business is now beginning to pick up, and the city looks as if the people really meant "business." The merchants are laying in a full stock of spring goods and everything is promising of a busy season.

CURRENT CAPITAL TOPICS. Yesterday a bill to incorporate the Territories of Colorado and New Mexico as States passed the of 25 cents a month. Senate, and will no doubt pass the House to-day or to-morrow.

Very little business has been transacted by Congress this session, the best part of the time being trifled away upon The Civil Rights, Louislana Question, The Force Bill, and many other minor bills, in which very few are interested. Congress has but seven more days to be in session, then an extra session of the Senste will be held, introducing the Senators of the Forty Fourth Congress, at which time ex President Johnson, recently elected from Tennessee, will take his seat.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Ruott has endered to the President his resignation of that position, to take effect to-day. The receipts from internal revenue for the past month amounts to $12,606,841 82. Total for the fiscal year to date, $74,501,966 62.

The National Bank currency issued under the late Act of Congress, amounts to $1,606,000, which will necessitate the retirement of $1,254,000 in legal tender notes. How is that for high? "NO INJUN THERE !"

A band of Western Indians were visiting the Tresury Department a few days since, and were taken into the Secret Service division where there are numerous photographs of people of peculiar character, embracing thieves, counterfeiters, &c., men, women, and boys of all nations and colors, but no Indians. After looking over the entire lot the spokesman of the Indian party turning to his white escort, drew himself up proudly, and, with a majestic wave of his band toward the group of pictures, said, " Ugh! No Injun there!"

Commander Lull, commanding the Panama Surveying Expedition, reports to the Secretary of the Navy, under date of Feb. 13, 1875, (Aspinwall) that the work of the expedition is progressing finely and present indications are much better than we had hoped at first. The health of the expedition is good. J. B. L.

Doctor Mohabeer.

By the last mail from the East we received the following letter, which in simple justice to a gentleman who came among us as a stranger, we give to the pub-The writer of the letter is evidently a person of position and consideration, his name appearing prominently as a speaker in the published account of the annual banquet of the "Tower Hamlets Constitutional Association," March 1st, which was presided over by the Right Hon. Lord Henry Lenox, M. P., Her Maj-

To the Editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser: SIR-I have been much interested this morning in perusing a copy of your admirable journal of the 9th January, equal both in type and matter to any of our London papers. I was specially pleased with the corner allotted to your Honolulu Poet, who must be the Poet Laureate of your beautiful Islands. But was distressed to observe how my esteemed friend Dr. Mohabeer had been treated, fined $100 for practicing medicine without a license. If the inhabitants of Honolulu knew how eminent a man, both as a physician and a Christian gentleman they have among them, they would not seek to drive him away by persecution. His merits in medical science are as great as the good qualities of his heart. I begin to wish that I had not advised him, when in my London Parish, to visit the Western Hemisphere. Had he remained in London, his talent would soon have earned him a wide-spread reputation, such as he had in India and the Mauritius. I hope to bring his case before our Secretary of State for Foreign I have the honor to be sir, Your very obedient servant,

SAMUEL CHARLESWORTH. Rector of Limehouse

A WEEKLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO Hawsian interests of every kind. While its columns A Hawsian interests of every kind. While its columns treat prominently of Home and Foreign news, a large space is given to general literature and scientific research especially referring to the Hawaiian and other Islands of the Pacific. Thus it occupies a field appropriated by no other existing paper. Arran ements have been made for the publication in he Islandan, of valuable and interesting manuscript paper viating to the language, manners and cust songs and legends of these and other Pacific Islands, to which the public have never before had access. Frominent amon these is the famous prophecy of Kamehamcha's conquest the Islands known as HAUI KA LANI.

or Fallen are the Chiefs. The publication of this wonderful and beautiful Epic, will be commenced from the translation of the late Judge Andrews, in the issue for the 25d of April, to be followed by David Mulo's HAWAIIAN ANTIQUITIES, by the same translator, thus affording an opportunity for reading and collecting the best specimens of Hawaiian literature which has never been equaled. These features, with its low price, make the ISLANDER the most desirable as well as the cheapest English newspaper published in these Islands, and will give its files a permanent value.
